This is what is brewing....

Koffee काफी कुछ

is a unique art initiative that was conceived by me a couple of years back. It all began with organizing informal meetings akin to the Bengali 'adda' (get together) with artists, art historians art critics and art lovers to chat and exchange ideas on diverse topics related to art, culture, music, fashion, theater, culinary expertise, performances...and the list kept expanding as the enthusiasm of the participants kept escalating. It soon took the shape of a forum to speak our mind and making art relevant. It was curated as a platform for the young (at heart) and talented who are 'non judgmental' and 'bindaas' (fearless) enjoying the entire process of making art using it as a 'multidisciplinary' tool of expression.

The initiative soon gained popularity and caught the fancy of the art fraternity.

Since the sudden imposition of lockdown globally, I felt that it was imperative to take the initiative a step further, by making it go online... exploring the 'virtual world', without succumbing to the psychological pressures of a creative lockdown, reference to the entire Covid-19 frenzy. The pandemic generated the 'new normal' art scene. A unique sensibility cropped up never imagined by us.

The initiative is for all those like minded brigade of art enthusiasts who have the ability to break the pattern. So brace yourself with your Coffee mugs (which needn't be virtual) as I interact with some extremely talented & quirky creative minded brigade of artists who have the fizz and the punch to make a difference..... Its time to spill the beans & delve beyond the cliché.

Cheers to Koffee काफी कुछ Season -2
